ABOUT US

At Integra Door Hardware, we believe the smallest details make the biggest difference. Founded on the values of integrity, quality and genuine old-fashioned service, our goal is simple. To provide premium door hardware whilst building lasting relationships with our customers. We are the reason that people should believe that good service still exists.

Although Integra Door Hardware is a young business, our commitment is timeless: every customer matters, every project matters and trust is earned through every interaction. We'll look after you.

We work hard – Be kind – Build trust – Love what we do.

OUR FOUNDER

Hi, I'm Jenn, the founder of Integra Door Hardware.

After many years in the hardware industry, I started Integra Door Hardware, with one simple belief. That genuine service, integrity and quality still matter. I love building relationships with my customers and take pride in helping them to find the right solution for every project.

For me, business has never been just about selling door hardware. It's about earning trust, building relationships, looking after people and making every customer feel valued.
